Gen. Ridgway Not Acceding To Latest Red Demands

Gromyko Returns To United States

NEW YORK—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, Andrei Gromyko, (with hat and coat) steps on American shore here after his arrival aboard the Queen Elizabeth. Gromyko, head of the Russian delegation to the Japanese Peace conference, claimed Russia has its own proposal to offer at the conference. A delegation from the New York Special Service (police) squad was on hand as a courtesy to the Soviet group.

Two Thousand Share In Playgrounds Closing Day

City recreation department closed another successful safe and sane summer at the city playgrounds with "Play Day" at Cascade Park Monday. Two thousand New Castle children gathered at the park for free rides, ice cream, pop, games and contests of every type.

Special busses picked the children up during the morning and took them to the park, where the festivities began at 10 o'clock. The children were then separated into age groups under the watchful eyes of the playground directors.

Out of the day-long event gloom was cast over the enjoyment of only three children. One five-year-old boy had the index and middle fingers of his right hand bitten by the monkey when he stuck his hand in the cage. A little girl about eight years of age fell and twisted her ankle (not badly, however) and another little girl, Rose Mary Marino, Sennett street, lost her wrist watch. The playground directors were happy to report that Driving past the Harbor recently Pa New saw a rare old bird for this area, a North American Bittern. Rare because so few of them are seen now days. This bird seems to have a nest near the Harbor bridge.

One ingenious contractor in the vicinity of Big Run creek on Moravia street was noted on Monday using a power shovel with a long boom on it pulling gravel from the creek bed. A truck nearby was being loaded with the material which will be used in concrete work.

Almost every direction a motorist travels from New Castle, within a radius of 25 miles, he will find a detour, Pa New notes. Turnpike construction has caused most of the detouring while other repair work has brought on a few detours. Extreme caution must be used in the vicinity of the turnpike work at Enon Valley.

Pa New learns in a note from Margaret E. Ropp, member of the New Bedford Grange finance committee that the grange undertook the expense of drilling the well at the grange hall where school classes are to be held and not the Pulaski Township school board. The water will be used by the youngsters attending the classes there.

Wonder if the boys that are chasing the trains along the Ne-shannock river tracks realize how

Three Persons Shot In Hotel Holdup Attempt

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 28.—(INS)—Three persons were shot, one critically, in an attempted holdup early today at the Wiltshire hotel in Atlantic City and police seized two newly-hired bellhops of the hotel as the robbers.

Taken to Atlantic City hospital were Louis Moskowitz, 64, owner of the hotel who was shot in the head; his wife, Mary, 50, wounded in the chest, and a relative of the Moskowitzes, Frank Moss, 35, who was shot in the left thigh.

Copper Strike Not Settled

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Production of vital copper for defense remained at a standstill today when strikers refused to return to their jobs, despite an appeal by President Truman.

Meanwhile, the Wage Stabilization Board arranged for a hearing tomorrow afternoon in an effort to draft proposals for a settlement as quickly as possible.

Government officials emphasized that the strike is cutting in to the already critically short copper supply, both for production of weapons and civilian durable goods.

President John Clark of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers declared in Denver that strikers will return to the mines and mills only if the government presses management leaders to accept federal proposals to end the walkout.

Yoshida And Gen. Ridgway Are Speakers

TOKYO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Although the Japanese peace conference is more than a week away, the Japanese nation became free in its own mind today when Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway spoke from the same table—and Yoshida spoke in Japanese.

Yoshida, exhibiting his proud patriotism, by using his native tongue instead of the English he knows so well, also paid tribute to the United States for offering Japan a "fair and magnanimous treaty" which he said was "unparalleled in history."

He said Japan owes this fair treatment not only to the United States as a government but to Ambassador John Foster Dulles, to

The union added that American orders in European shipyards have been increased, while a substantial part of this country's shipbuilding facilities are idle.

Expect Gromyko Ready To Blast Japanese Treaty

Soviet Foreign Minister Returns For Treaty Session

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Sources in touch with the Russian UN delegation indicated today that Andrei Gromyko will make next Wednesday a major Kremlin-drafted address urging a revised Japanese peace treaty.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister will lay down at the San Francisco sessions a series of basic counter-proposals calculated to appeal to millions in Asiatic lands.

At the same time, he will precipitate a showdown with the United States on the Allied agreement to restrict the conference program to four days of speeches, climaxed by the signing of the treaty.

Gromyko's initial aim is to force the transformation of the conference into a negotiating session in which Russian counter-proposals fundamentally altering the nature of the treaty would play a leading role.

Arrives Monday
Gromyko declined extensive comment on his arrival yesterday but at the UN those close to iron curtain sources hinted strongly

Mexico Seeking To Prevent Epidemics In Flood Areas

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The Mexican government rushed supplies by air, sea and land today in a fight against malaria and epidemics in northeastern Mexico, which was hit by a hurricane and floods.

Six government planes began parachuting food, medicine and clothing to thousands of persons left homeless and isolated by flood waters in the states of Tamaulipas, Vera Cruz and San Luis Potosi.

Gen. Santiago Pina Soria, head of military aid, said the air force plans to drop 500 tons of corn, beans, rice, sugar, butter and medicine to the population.

Pemex, the government oil monopoly, used four motor boats and a large number of trucks to rescue stranded residents in the vicinity of Ebano in Tamaulipas state and to move in supplies.

Antonio J. Bermudez, director general of Pemex, after visiting the stricken area, said the most serious threat is posed by the swollen Panuco river at Tampico.

However, he described the losses at the petroleum installation at Tampico as "insignificant" and said operations are normal.

A social security medical group visited El Monte, in the state of Tamaulipas and announced that the population is threatened with epidemics resulting from drinking contaminated water. It also said the flood waters provide a breeding ground for malaria-carrying mosquitoes.

Hunt Slayer Of Woman Clerk

Body Of Missing Hotel Clerk Found

MIAMI, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Police continued their search today for a 38 caliber pistol used in the slaying of a young woman clerk missing since the hotel in which she worked was robbed last Wednesday.

The body of attractive Mrs. Lewana Newman was found yesterday in a farmer's field. The bullet which killed her was discovered nearby.

Miami police searched 30 suspects in attempts to find the gun which fired the slug.

The 23-year-old clerk was the mother of a six-year-old son and had been separated from her husband since last March.

She was first reported missing by the hotel management last Wednesday when the robbery was discovered. However, a safe for which the young woman had a key, was undisturbed. It contained more than $7,000 in cash and jewelry.

Red Forces In Heavy Attacks On U. N. Troops

Allied Forces Are Driven Back Two Miles At One Point

By DON NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 28.—Heavy Communist attacks along the east central Korean front Monday kept pressure on United Nations troops and drove the Allied forces back nearly two miles at one point.

Bitter fighting and increased artillery fire by both sides continued in the sector for the second straight day. Allied air planes also joined in the battle, flying numerous close support missions in front of UN lines.

The main North Korean attack was northeast of Yanggu and north of the Ridgeline along which UN troops recently captured a vital series of hills.

Reds Launch Attack
The Reds launched the attack shortly after sun-up with one Communist company throwing itself at the entrenched Allied units.

Within a few hours the Reds increased the attack to battalion size and with the help of Communist artillery drove the UN troops off a hill and pushed them south 3,000 yards in a battle which lasted almost two hours.

Gen. Eisenhower Gives His Views

Fighting Plane Is Best Defense Of Europe, He Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has told the Senate that the present conflict between communism and the free world threatens "the future of civilization as we know it."

Eisenhower also urged that the Arab nations and all of the Middle East be brought into the cold war "on our side."

The supreme commander of European anti-communist forces outlined his views to a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, which released them Monday night.

Eisenhower, in urging all possible foreign military aid, declared that "the best defense of Europe is the fighter plane."

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, his chief of staff, said every effort is being made to build up the number of fighters in the western European defense force.

U. N. Statement Repeats Denials Of Bomb Charges

No Formal Reply As Yet Presented By Gen. Ridgway

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. N. S.)

TOKYO, Aug. 29.—(Wednesday)—Gen. Ridgway's headquarters accused the Communists Tuesday of plotting new trickery and more faked evidence in the Red demand for Allied "reinvestigation" of the alleged bombing of the Kaesong truce zone by Allied aircraft.

The statement indicated that the supreme UN commander has no intention of acceding to the Communist demand to admit responsibility for the purported bombing as the price for resuming broken-off peace talks.

Ridgway's public information office issued the statement at 10 p.m. Tuesday 8 a.m. EDT but it was not a formal, official answer to the Reds.

It said the latest Communist message delaying renewal of the Kaesong parley was merely an attempt by the Reds to "regain face" and possibly a move to "utilize their control of the conference area to their advantage."

The headquarters statement said: "Should the investigation be reopened it is probable that much more convincing evidence of a bombing attack would be presented."

Repeat Denials

The UN statement went on to repeat earlier denials of any connection with the so-called bombing. It also denied any Allied responsibility for the Communist reported August 19th ambush of a Chinese Red patrol in the truce zone.

Rains May Aid Fire Fighters In Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 28.—(INS)—Light rains moving southward out of Canada spelled relief for weary fire fighters battling flames in the drought-stricken areas of the Pacific northwest.

Rain fell in Portland last night for the first time since July 5 and moved south into the state of Oregon, aiding fire fighters on the North Santiam river near Salem to gain the upper hand over fire blanketing the 9,000-acre Sandline Creek area.

Some 3,000 men working on that fire and another in the Vincent Creek area of Lane county near Scottsburg succeeded in completing fire lanes on the north side of the blaze.

They were expected to cut a swath through the forests across the southern edge of the burning area later today.

Strange faces and strange sights, busy days and busy nights, tooting taxis and squawking horns, a roar of traffic in early morn. Subways, ferries and horse drawn carts, days not finished before it starts. Sidewalks crowded till long past two, people rushing so they get through, this will go till the end of the week, but I'm thinking a lot of that back home creek, where life is peaceful and folks are gay, and the weather is 78 today.

U. N. Statement Repeats Denials Of Bomb Charges

last Wednesday was the pretext the Reds used to break off peace talks.

The Allied headquarters release reviewed Communist charges of violations of the truce zone by UN personnel and labelled them an effort by the Reds "to regain face which they lost in the eyes of their followers" when the Communists were forced to admit their own troops committed a violation August 4th.

The statement added:

Red Violations
"From the beginning it was the Communists that violated the letter and spirit of our agreements concerning neutrality . . . and took advantage of the fact that Kaesong was within their lines to place the United Nations command delegation in an undignified and degrading position."

Also mentioned was the attempt by the Reds "to dictate the composition of the United Nations command delegation party" by banning a personnel convoy including newsmen from entering Kaesong.

In regard to the Kaesong bombing charge, the release said there was no evidence to support it and added:

No Bomb Craters

"There were no bomb craters . . . all evidence established the clear conclusion that on the night of 22 August the Communists perpetrated a deliberate fraud."

The statement repeated that UN assertion that the Communists refused to allow Allied liaison officers to make a daylight investigation of the supposedly bombed area because "the so-called evidence obviously could not stand the light of day."

The statement concluded: "There is as yet no indication as to the nature of the reply General Ridgway will make to the latest Communist letter."

Ridgway was apparently still considering the text of the official Communist note before making a reply.

A high-ranking UN source said that the UN commander is keeping his forces ready for any eventualities—if the Reds choose to resume all-out war or if they decided to go ahead with the bogged down peace parity.

poored into the breach and halted the advance during the afternoon. The UN forces then began a drive northward.

Enemy artillery was so effective in this sector that in some instances it kept the UN forces pinned down for hours.

Attacks Decrease

By nightfall, however, most of the attacks by both sides had decreased to sporadic exchanges of small arms fire.

To the east, in the sector west of the Coastal city of Kaesong, South Korean forces continued the attack which was launched August 17 for vital high ground and with help of Allied artillery and air support took another of the hill objectives, beating off a counter-attack by the Red regiment.

There was also a series of "aggressive" probing attacks by Communist units up to battalion size along the sector of the front south of the Communist buildup city of Kumsong. The Red assaults forced UN troops to make minor withdrawals.

hower declared that "the one way to break the United States" is to let the military aid program drag out. He also called for recognition of the danger of communist aggression in Europe.

The supreme commander said: "Failure to recognize the threat here would be a terrific error. I believe the future of civilization as we know it is at stake."

Gruntner quoted his chief as saying that "the business of having a large number of U. S. ground troops in foreign countries over a long period of time is just not sound."

But the chief of staff added that at present everything must be done, including stationing of U. S. troops in Europe, to bolster the west "until Europe itself is strong."

that the Kaesong cease-fire talks are linked to developments at the forthcoming treaty conference.

A high U. S. source stressed that Gromyko, while free to offer any proposals he likes before the conference, cannot adopt its rules of procedure, can hardly hope to override the will of 45 other nations and dictate an entirely new agenda. The U. S. source emphasized that a majority of the western delegates are determined to stick to the "treaty-signing" program agreed upon over the past year of negotiation and not to allow Gromyko or anyone else to maneuver the meetings into a "negotiating" affair.

Although western diplomats concede that Gromyko undoubtedly will stage various "scare" maneuvers and attempt to split non-Communist ranks at San Francisco, there is little concern that he will succeed in wrecking the final proceedings or upset the signature ceremonies.

RUSH ACT

ST. LOUIS.—(INS)—A St. Louis salesman, always in a rush, stopped at a restaurant and ordered a hamburger. He was just about to leave when the waitress dashed up and asked for the sandwich. "I ate it," said the salesman. "But they forgot to put the hamburger in," she replied.

American Aid For Spain

The U. S. "Military Survey Team" which will begin negotiations in Madrid this week is there to find out how much American aid is needed to modernize a tough army and possibly also to Russia attack the western coalition.

An ECA study group also is in Madrid to chart Generalissimo Franco's economic needs.

The United States sent the late Admiral Forrest Sherman, former chief of naval operations, to talk with Spanish leaders despite the protests of Britain and France.

Recommendations Not Revealed
His recommendations never were disclosed officially. But the United States is reported interested in obtaining air and naval bases behind the strategic Pyrenees. And the military survey team under air force Maj. Gen. James Sperry then was sent to Madrid.

Spanish leaders have shown an enthusiasm at the prospect of American aid and possible working alliance with the United States. As for Anglo-French objections, they believe these spring from jealousy and a fear that American aid to Spain will lessen the American outpourings to Britain and France.

Nine American Senators, members of a Foreign Relations Subcommittee, reported after a recent tour of Europe that $400 million would be the "minimum" aid that anti-Communist Spain would need for effective participation in western defenses against Communism. The same group recommended that Communist Yugoslavia, which has broken with Moscow, be brought into a "master plan" for defense against Russia, along with Spain. W. Averell Harriman, special presidential envoy, flew to Yugoslavia during the week-end for talks with Marshal Tito.

"Sold" On Spanish Frontiers
American military observers in Spain are "sold" on the fighting qualities of the Spanish army once it is given the proper training and modern equipment.

The strength of the Army has been estimated at 400,000 men, but some observers say the present effective strength is closer to 250,000. This standing army could be increased to approximately a million men upon mobilization. And the western defense forces are in need of lots of manpower.

Most of the officers and non-commissioned men are volunteers, and they are the backbone of the Spanish force.

The navy's 25,000 men have five cruisers, eleven destroyers and seven submarines. Three of the latter are said to be unable to dive.

The air force has some 900 antiquated pre-war planes, but it is said only 400 of them can fly.

Needs Of Army
France's army needs modern tanks, artillery and lots of ammunition. Most of the artillery is of pre-war German design. Its soldier are poorly paid, mostly enlisted peasants, but these get uniforms, shoes and comparatively good food which otherwise would not be their lot.

In return for American economic and military aid, what could Spain offer the United States?

Some military experts say that presently there are no possible air bases that could be used by the U. S. These are Madrid and Barcelona. Plus four naval bases, the Canary Islands, El Ferrol, Cadiz and Cartagena.

But the Pentagon reportedly has outlined a detailed program whereby the United States could establish a great network of modern bases equipped to take care of its largest army bombers.

Under that reported plan, 8,000-foot strips could be established at Madrid, Barcelona, Bilbao, Vigo, Cadiz and Seville—and possibly another in Spanish Morocco in nearby Africa.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

COTTAGE FOR SALE
For sale: The summer cottage where the children used to play.

It has served its happy purpose, but the need has passed away.

The children now are married and have youngsters of their own. And I wouldn't hold a cottage I must occupy alone.

It's a comfortable cabin; one with every thing equipped. It is only of the laughter that it knew. I leave it stripped. I will sell the chairs and tables and the beds in which to sleep.

And the curtains and the pillows, but the memories I'll keep.

Where we once were all united, now no longer can we be. The children plan their summers just as long ago did we.

And it's right, should be that way. So, I'm on my way to nail

A sign upon that cottage, with these simple words: "For Sale."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Monte Carlo was the scene of a strange occurrence one night many years ago. An elderly gentleman took a seat in the casino and ventured fifty francs on Number 17.

The number came up. The old man pointed at Number 17 again and made no move to rake in any of his winnings.

Again the little silver ball came to rest at Number 17. The croupier looked questioning at the old man, who sat with his head down on one arm and his finger pointed at Number 17 on the board. Five more consecutive times the wheel hit Number 17. The old man's pile of chips was enormous.

The crowd stood silent with admiration for his nerve. The croupier had a hurried consultation with the directors, and announced that the bank was broken and the roulette game at an end.

But the winner of the fortune never stirred. He was dead. Furthermore, a doctor testified in court he had been dead ever since the second spin. A dead man broke the bank at Monte Carlo!

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Kinda feel good . . . had a little trip . . . down to Johnstown . . . and such a trip makes our little family mighty glad to be alive . . . and might we say, alive right here in New Castle. Now don't go jumping to conclusions . . . there are other communities in this world but we prefer this one. Johnstown is a going concern. But if you think we have a traffic problem . . . then you should see what they have.

The first thing . . . that community lies in a narrow valley . . . and their streets are just the same. But what views the residents have! . . . most of 'em live up on the mountains. We call 'em mountain . . . altitude ranges from 1600 feet to 2200 feet above sea level. We here are about 600 feet.

As in all communities . . . building is going full blast . . . but different from here and in most other sections . . . some of their new houses . . . building is functional modern . . . Not just one . . . but quite a few. Just like pages from a "Better Homes & Garden" magazine, or some other like publication.

People who live in glass houses shouldn't . . . complain about people looking to see how the houses are constructed . . . and what kind of furnishings have been used. And I don't really think the people who live in such places really object too much . . . they enjoy living and they enjoy the way they can live in modern houses . . . and such philosophy takes into consideration the peoples of the world.

They too should be happy . . . and if looking at these outstanding houses makes 'em happy . . . that is all according to the overall plan.

If you want to wear a red suit . . . that's all right . . . just so long as you don't insist that your neighbor wears the same . . . if you want to go without a hat, that's OK . . . but don't think your neighbor crazy if he wears one. If you want to live in a glass house . . . your privilege . . . Which reminds us of an old saying that we picked up years ago . . . and which Carl Paisley said last week . . . When the Indians were hunting this country, there were no taxes, no debts, and the women did all the work. White men settled here thinking they could improve a system as good as that.

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, are going to stop in New York. But that is not going to prevent me from seeing them. When they get to Washington to visit the Harry Trumans, I'll be there, even if I have to go by pogo stick. It's not Princess Elizabeth I'm interested in at all. It's the Duke and his rapidly receding hairline that I'm going to fasten my gaze on. Nothing, and I mean nothing, gives me more pleasure than to see a much younger man than I with much less hair than I have. And when that young man is married to the heir apparent to the British throne, he becomes doubly fascinating.

I have often wondered if Princess Elizabeth has ever reminded the Duke of his thinning hair, and suggested to him that he do something about it. If she hasn't, she's not a completely normal woman, because statistics reveal that women would rather be married to a two-dollar mop than to a bald-headed man.

Men have enough trouble in this country without the government stepping in and making it worse for them. There was a time when a man could buy a woman a fur coat and fool her into thinking it was Eyebrow of Chinchilla. But no more. The government has decreed that from here out every fur sold must be labeled, showing just what it is and where it came from. This completely stopped my plans for being very generous this winter.

I was getting ready to buy a coat made of North Dakota Mongrel Dog Bellies which was advertised as being a coat made of Sheared, Clipped, Pastel, Mutation, Wild Ranch Australian Ooboo. Nearly any woman would be satisfied with a label like that, but try to name me any woman who would be proud to show her friends a coat marked North Dakota Mongrel Dog Bellies.

For the happiness of men who have to buy fur coats for women, I think the government would have been very wise if it had kept its hands off the fur business, and let a fellow feel his wheeler-dealer with rabbits, underfed beavers, underprivileged muskrats, and social security collecting raccoons. American men keep their women on pedestals, but I don't see why the pedestals have to be made of honest fur.

I wonder if I'll ever get it through my thick skull that Irishmen are Irishmen, and will never change. Since I wrote about the burning of Dublin's Abbey theatre, and speculated that America would put up the money to rebuild it, I've had dozens of letters from Irishmen that had to be opened under the water in the bathtub, so bitter were they. The kindest one I received told me that I was an English sheepdog and should be in London worshipping the king. Most of the letters I turned over to the fire department and the firemen had a hard time putting out the flames. Ireland may be poor, but I'll swear it's independent, and I'm speaking of the southern part. It seems that Ireland is going to rebuild the Abbey by itself, and doesn't want anybody's aid. Even little children wrote to tell me what a foul person I was. I take this opportunity to apologize. Ireland is too sweet a country for a columnist ever to pick on. Of all the 56 countries I have visited, none looks so much as it should look as does Ireland, and none offers the warmth and love.

Perhaps I'm prejudiced, you Irishmen. There's more than a soupcon of Irish in me. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

New York nervously awaits the day when Mike Quill has all the cops, John Lewis has all the taxi drivers and Phil Murray has everybody else.

Mr. Lewis' campaign is dormant at the moment but that doesn't mean his meter is shut off. He's just parked with the flag down waiting for the lights to change again.

There's no indication of whether he'll move now or wait until election year which is a favorite time for embarrassing elected officials.

For Mike Quill any time is a good time and while he is not listed as one of the feature attractions of Manhattan he is one of the city's curios.

Should he and Lewis start their big push at the same time the citizenry will get to use those shelters which have been set up for all-out war purposes.

In a smaller town the citizens would have long since gone back to the early statutes for a "public nuisance" clause and invoked it against the bouncy boys who erupt at will.

But that's New York.

They Say

BELGRADE — Presidential Assistant W. Averell Harriman. We Marshal Tito and I agreed that the surest way to prevent war was the efforts of our countries to strengthen their military forces.

NEW YORK — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey: "You can not divorce what happens in Singapore or Saigon from the survival of the United States."

WASHINGTON — Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.): "We have refinements of the atomic bomb which make it an even more deadly weapon than it has been."

NEW YORK — Bernard MacFadden 83-year-old stock man, born in Ireland, is in the Hudson river: "It's perfectly safe. I know what I'm doing."

After serving in World War I he became a professional boxer in London. Turning to the theater, he played in "The Glorious Adventure" with Lady Diana Manners, and followed with many starring roles. In America he was the film star of "Beau Geste," "What Price Glory" and "The Informer," etc. He won an Oscar for best performance in 1935. More recent pictures are "Gangster," "Tampico," "The Princess and the Pirate," "Tough and Ready," "Love, Honor and Goodbye," "Foxes of Harrow," "Calendar Girl."

LEFTIES

FORT MADISON, Ia.—(INS)—Your chances of having a left-handed child are about one in 16, and the probability is even greater if boys run in your family. According to Jerlyn Madison, handwriting consultant of the Sheaffer Pen Company, about six out of 100 people are left-handed, but boys outnumbering girls two to one.

Miscellany

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 27. TRUMAN AND—The President's jollified press conferences have not yielded the secret of his reelection intentions, but you can't fool the other Democratic hopefuls—and some of them have already settled for the vice presidency.

Among these is an extraverted Senator who makes no bones in private about his ambitions. "I didn't come here," he lately told a reporter, "to grow old and gray in the Senate. I want to get to the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue, but I'm going to have to wait. Next year's ticket will be Harry and me."

TAFT OR—In the final analysis, the next Republican Convention will be trying primarily to pick a winner, never mind what else. But even on this purely practical basis, the same two candidates—Taft and Eisenhower—invariably collide.

The Senator's slim-bang campaign of last November is still his backers' best argument. Taft has always said to friendly interrogators that he could carry the farm and labor votes if only he could make farmers and laborers sit still and listen to him.

This he succeeded in doing when he swept Ohio in 1950. He did so by making hundreds of grass-roots speeches, by submitting tirelessly to hundreds of quiz sessions in which he answered all questions with chapter-and-verse replies.

Is this the strategy to defeat a Fair Deal whistle-stop campaign? Recalling Dewey's home-and-mother speeches of 1948, many GOP strategists think so. They are certain that it will take a hardacts man (if not Taft, then a Taft-type candidate) to answer and confound the preachers and promoters of the Welfare State.

But even some of Taft's well-wishers believe that only Eisenhower can restore their party to power after 20 years of frustration. The Democrats, it's contended, are too well entrenched for ordinary methods of dislodgment. Salvation must come from the firmament instead of the grass-roots. Therefore Eisenhower.

The General is a big name and a world figure. He towers far above Mr. Truman or anybody else the Democrats could name. He is an Olympian personage. Even like's simplicity is the simplicity of greatness rather than that of common clay. True, he was once a barefoot boy in Kansas, a product of early poverty and well-won success. But in the past 10 years Eisenhower has made himself "first in war, first in peace."

Is this what's needed to unhorse a give-em-hell-Harry Truman? Or would like suffer, as Dewey did, from pitching his appeal too high?

Eisenhower backers admit this danger, but believe it. They do not expect their man to reel off statistics about farm bills, labor bills, tax bills and the many other detailed matters which most closely affect our daily lives. They think that this ability (at which both Taft and Truman shine) is admirable but not essential. The General, they say, is big enough to talk in generalities.

McCARTHYISM, BUT—At this writing the shock-tactics of Sen. McCarthy are getting another test-run which could very well set the style for next year's campaign. Nobody any longer expects this free-swinging to make much of a batting average. But even his near misses fan a breeze that still echoes with the names of Hiss, Remington, Gold and the rest. Still, many Republicans feel that McCarthyism has had its day, thanks mostly to Pendergastism. There is some doubt about Reds in government, but no doubt at all about the Administration's record in five-percenters, deep-freezers, milk quotas and RFC favoritism. "Thou shalt not steal" is still a pretty good campaign slogan.

NOT PEACE, BUT—The Atlantic Pact and Korean cease-fire talks have momentarily stabilized both war fronts—and also instituted an enforced bipartisanship. So long as the cold truth prevails, there can be no more titanic battles over foreign policy. In the battle of words, the warmongers and the appeasers have reached a stalemate. ## Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I have a solution for all the world's ills.

Let us take the Russo-American problem, the Korean peace negotiations and all the other trouble-causers away from those who handle them at present and let the Boy Scouts take care of them.

More than 15,000 scouts were recently in session at Bad Ischl in Austria.

There were boys from many countries, of many races, colors and creeds.

There were Catholic and Protestant Boy Scouts, Jewish Boy Scouts, Moslem Boy Scouts.

The Catholics and Protestants prayed to Almighty God. The Moslems bowed to Allah. The boys from the Orient payed homage to Buddha.

BUT ALL OF THEM PRAYED FOR PEACE.

And when prayer time was over those Boy Scouts swapped experiences. They told one another of their countries' beauties. They learned one another's viewpoints and customs. They played games. They vied in sports.

And, above all, they learned to know and RESPECT one another. Six thousand Catholic scouts attended an open air high pontifical mass celebrated by Theodor, Cardinal Innitzer of Vienna.

But, in addition to the six thousand, thousands more of other denominations heard the Cardinal say these words:

"IF ALL GOVERNMENTS AND ALL NATIONS WOULD BE AS UNITED AS YOU BOY SCOUTS THE WORLD WOULD BE."

And at the Protestant service, beneath a simple cross, the British Bishop of St. Albans, himself a scout, told his boys:

"We are come to camp to stamp out hate, jealousy and misunderstanding more quickly than we would destroy the viper."

"It takes a brave man to work for peace. As we work for peace so will we have peace."

Couldn't these boys do a better job at peace-making than their elders are doing at Kaesong, at Teheran or in London, Paris and Washington?

Why is it that MEN, grownup men, many of them former Boy Scouts, make such an awful mess of things when they KNOW in their hearts and souls how to do them right?

Is it vanity? Is it pride? Is it personal ambition?

In Ithaca, N. Y., there was another World Assembly of Youth.

They were trying to solve the problems of the young people in the 64 non-communist countries they represent.

I wish that those 500 delegates could be allowed to solve the problems of the OLDER people in those 64 countries.

I see in the paper where the proprietor of a wine shop in New York reported to the police that a pigeon with ruffled feathers had flown into his place and was doing some sampling.

Could that pigeon perhaps be the dove of peace that has become so discouraged at the conference table that she was driven to drink?

Which reminds me that the WCTU has just discovered that the annual per capita consumption of whiskey in Washington is 3.91 gallons.

Which may account for lots of our trouble.

TWO AND ONE

Two and one make three but if it looks like six there is something wrong.

There are several things which make a person have double vision. When a person sees two where there is only one he should get medical advice pretty soon.

It is always a good idea to investigate when there is any deviation from the normal.

"A stitch in time saves nine."

Musician Jobs Open In U. S. Air Force

M/Sgt. H. O. Falls, New Castle U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Station, announced the procedure whereby a young man may enlist in the United States Air Force as an air force bandsman.

A musician qualified on oboe, bassoon, clarinet, french horn or flute may be auditioned for enlistment in the air force as a bandsman by an air force band leader who will furnish the applicant a letter of certification and authorization for enlistment.

A qualified applicant who resides so far distant from an air force band as to make an audition impractical may submit application, supported by recommendations certifying as to his qualifications, to the Chief of Bands and Music, U.S. Air Force, Washington, 25, D.C.

Air force musicians other than those listed will be obtained through auditioning at indoctrination training centers. An air force band leader is assigned at each air force indoctrination training center for the purpose of interview and auditioning qualified and interested basic airmen for assignment to air force band.

For additional information, contact the Recruiting Sergeant, Post Office, New Castle, or phone 4745.

Housing Plan Before Rotary

Open Forum Held On Matter Monday

New Castle Rotarians had an open forum discussion on the matter of public housing at its weekly luncheon meeting in The Castle-ton Monday noon when the merits of the proposal were discussed pro and con.

Rev. J. Calvin Rose served as moderator of the discussion, and quoted the president of Rotary, in which he expressed the wish that every meeting of Rotary would be a forum for the purpose of discussing ideas, stating that this has been the motive power behind history.

Alverson Gives History
He called on various members of the club to speak on the matter, some of whom were against the proposal and some of whom were for it. Rev. Rose stated that the matter had been brought to the attention of the New Castle Ministerial Association, particularly as it affected the Negro population, many of whom are forced to live in slum areas.

Past President Blair C. Alverson gave a history of the movement to date in the city, when the matter was brought before city council, and the various steps needed to start public housing were outlined by Mr. Falls of the Federal Housing Authority.

During this time, Mr. Alverson stated, The News ran a series of articles on the matter, which presented all angles of the case. In conclusion, he stated that it was the consensus of those who were opposed to the project, that so many economical and social factors were involved, that it should not be decided by such a small group, who were under pressure in the matter.

Tom Foley presented figures on public housing in Beaver county, where 4,500 homes have been built since VJ day. There have been 22 housing projects in the adjoining county, he stated, with 2,560 homes completed, and 282 under present construction, making a total of 2,842.

If the people of Lawrence county have to help pay for this, he could see no reason why New Castle should not share in it.

Encroachment Charged
Fred Allen stated that there has been so much encroachment by the Federal government in various schemes that sooner or later there should be a stopping place.

It is time that Mr. John Q. Public rolled up his sleeves and did something for himself, rather than run to the state or Federal government for help. Let the Federal government mind its own business and let ourselves mind ours, he said.

H. C. Richards told of an experience he had with public housing in Birmingham, Ala., where houses were torn down to make way for the project, which should not have been. Homes in the slum area were not included in this project, and it was more or less of a farce.

Cites Army Experiment
Dr. Arthur B. Foster told of a recent visit to Indiantown Gap, where Negro and white soldiers were living together in the same barracks, eating at the same mess table, and going to entertainments together, and that perfect harmony prevailed. He stated that when these men get back home, new lessons in social economy will result.

Alvin Shenkan stated that people were living in homes in New Castle today which should have been torn down many years ago. If we are not going to take advantage of the help the Federal government is offering, then we should do something ourselves, he stated.

In conclusion, Marshall G. Matheny stated that he felt that too many of the members were not conversant with all the facts in the matter and felt that a committee should be named to help develop these facts and present them to the club at a later date.

Visitors included: Robert L. Platt, Dr. R. F. Galbreath, J. A. Eubanks and J. McCandless of New Wilmington; Dave Jones of Ellwood City, Sam Miller of Midland and V. E. Parrett of Bessemer.

BURNS ARE FATAL
CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Aug. 28.—(INS)—William Shade, 67, died in Chambersburg hospital yesterday from burns suffered Sunday when an exploding oil stove set fire to his home in the city.

Mrs. Sara Shade, 68, his wife, is in critical condition at the hospital. Mrs. Louise Shade, 22, a daughter-in-law, and her two children, also were hospitalized due to shock and smoke inhalation.

Pomona Grange To Have Session

Meeting Wednesday
At Pleasant Hill

Lawrence County Pomona Grange will hold its regular meeting Wednesday, August 29, in the Pleasant Hill Grange hall, located on the Portersville and Ellwood City road near Wurtzburg, with the Pleasant Hill grangers as hosts, for an all day session.

The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock a. m. with the Worthy Master, Dale Currie presiding. Following the regular business routine, David F. Kyle, past Pomona Master, and an enthusiastic granger, will reminisce and tell the Grange body of some history and happenings of yesterday. At noon the meeting will recess for a picnic lunch.

Reconvening at 1:30 p. m. the assembly will be entertained by the juveniles of Pleasant Hill under the direction of Mrs. Otto Wagner, juvenile matron.

For the Home Economics hour, Mrs. Ray Marshall, committee chairman will represent the Pennsylvania Power Co. and will show a film on "Safety in the Home". The entries in the Sewing contest, which will be judged during the day, will be modelled and the winners acknowledged. The Sewing contest is a state and national grange project and brings out the value and savings in home sewing.

One of the great factors in the grange is the Home Economics department. It recognizes women's responsibility for world peace, encourages people to participate in community and grange activities; urges every citizen to register and vote, and study to become better informed on the work of the United Nations. In this connection there will be a display of United Nations flags, which have been made by the different subordinate grange throughout the county. The Rev. Mr. Gobrecht of Ellwood City will speak on the United Nations.

The balance of the afternoon session will be taken up by the election of officers for the ensuing year, 1952. The dinner will be served by the ladies of Pleasant Hill Grange.

At 7:45 p. m. the session will open with special music by Pleasant Hill Grange, county elimination in the Public Speaking contest, sponsored by State Grange will be presented as the first number on the evening's program. Each contestant must prepare and deliver a speech on the subject, "Democracy in Action".

The main feature of the evening will be the "Young Peoples' program" presented by the young grangers in the county under the direction of Paul McCullough, county president. Each subordinate grange will have some special feature.

The county eliminations for the Grange choir or chorus and the quartet contest as well as the "Grange Officers Sealing Drill" contest will be held at New Wilmington in the Wilmington Grange hall on Friday evening, September 7, 1951, at 8 o'clock. All contestants are requested to be there by that time.

Local Family In Peculiar Accident

Enroute home from Wheeling, W. Va., over the past week end, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Collins, 408 Connor avenue, experienced a most peculiar accident which sent three persons to the hospital.

While traveling in Rochester township, Beaver county, Route 88, a house trailer which they were towing with a tractor came loose and plowed head on into a car traveling in the opposite direction. Three young men, who were occupants of the car into which the careening house trailer crashed, were injured to such an extent that they were sent to the Beaver Valley General hospital.

Damage to the house trailer was estimated at $1,000 and to the car about $600.

Mr. Collins, who is an employee of the Conn Welding company of this city had spent the summer living in the trailer near Wheeling where the firm is engaged in repairing a bridge. He was bringing his family back to this city preparatory to entering the children in school. The trailer is the property of Mr. Conn.

The school will open this fall at the Institute of Applied Arts and Sciences in Brooklyn, N.Y.

John Agar Begins Jail Sentence

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Actor John Agar, Shirley Temple's handsome ex-husband, today was serving a 150-day jail sentence for two drunk driving violations.

The sentence was imposed at a municipal court session yesterday at which Agar was called a "neurotic drinker—not an alcoholic" and the judge branded him as a "potential killer."

Agar's attorney, Llewellyn Moses, pleaded with the court not to jail the actor, saying that a jail sentence might wreck his screen career, but Judge Vernon W. Hunt rejected the appeal.

Highway Safety Conference Held

W. Clayton Bryan represented New Castle auto dealers at the semi-annual highway safety conference held at Bedford Springs, last week, when 42 out of the 67 counties were represented.

It was brought out at the conference that people become greatly agitated when six people die as the result of polio and call it an epidemic, but are unconcerned when 360 people die from highway accidents.

Major Earl Henry, representing Col. Wilhelm, of the Pennsylvania State Police, stated that the state is getting tougher on inspections, 53 full-time supervisors having been added.

Elmer Trausean, of the Bureau of Highway Safety, told of the good that driver training has done, and felt that more will be accomplished when the citizens and school boards get back of the movement more solidly.

Hon. Samuel B. Dennison, of the legislature's committee on motor vehicles, spoke of legislative changes in the motor code, and explained changes which are being made in the inspection book.

He was given a suspended fine by Alderman Brice, which was later rescinded when he made full restitution.

Lottery Use Of Treasury Balance May Be Illegal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The Senate crime committee today backed legislation making it a crime to conduct a lottery or numbers game based on the U. S. Treasury balance.

The bill, one of six introduced late yesterday by the committee, provides a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine and a year in jail for any person found guilty of using any material published by the government for gambling purposes.

In introducing the bill, committee chairman O'Connor (D) Md., denounced the "very large illegal lottery operation" based on the Treasury balance, declaring that it is "trading on the prestige of the U. S. government."

Other crime committee bills would tighten income tax laws, regarding bootleggers, gamblers and other illegal operators; place a $1,000 fine and one-year sentence penalty on the interstate transport of liquor into dry areas; give the government the right to appeal against suppression of evidence in a criminal trial, and give congressional committees more power to enforce subpoenas for witnesses.

Eagles Auxiliary Enjoys Picnic And Fall Festival

Delightful weather greeted the happy throng of Eagles Auxiliary members, their families, friends and neighbors, when a picnic and fall festival was held at El Rio Beach on Saturday, August 25, with chairlady Dorothy Heckart in charge of arrangements.

The afternoon was devoted to the children, with games, a peanut and candy kiss scramble, roller skating and rides on the various concessions. Each child received a prize. Miss Janet Navarra and Mrs. Cecelia Jackson were in charge of the many activities for the kiddies.

A variety of sandwiches and other good things to eat were served in the afternoon and evening, games were enjoyed by the adults in the evening.

A "Guess What" contest was won by Mrs. Jane Nerd and Mr. Frank Kennedy; two lovely door-prizes were won by Mrs. Sara Jones and Mrs. Kathryn Williams.

Mrs. Heckart had as her aides Mrs. Elsie Pugh, Mrs. Ruby Thompson, Mrs. Pearl White, Adaline Navarra, Mrs. Ruth Matthews, Mrs. Martha Hook, Mrs. Lillian Hunter, Mrs. Kathryn Williams, Mrs. Belle Kennedy, Mrs. Henrietta Davis, Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, Mr. Walter Heckart, Mr. Howard Hunter, Mr. Harold Jackson, Mr. Steve Williams, Mr. William Pugh and Misses Wilma Heckart and Dora Williams and they really performed a remarkable job of assistance.

At a very late hour the guests returned to their homes, tired but happy, and the funds raised will prizes that the Auxiliary supports. Pearl White, chairlady for September, is planning a gala Auxiliary members "Get Together Party" in the latter part of September.

Mrs. Adaline Navarra will have practice Tuesday, August 28, at 8 p.m. for the initiation the team will give in McKeesport in September.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, September 4, at 8:30 after the men's meeting.

Madame Eva Peron Silent On Whether She'll Be Candidate

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Madame Eva Peron maintained her silence today on whether she will run for vice-president of Argentina, giving rise to reports she will refuse to make the race.

The silence of Madame Peron and of her husband, President Juan Peron, who is being urged to seek re-election was continued even in the face of joint pleas from the supreme council of the Peronista party, the General Federation of Labor and the Women's Peronista party.

Leaders of the three organizations called on the Perons at their private residence yesterday to ask them to run.

Peron himself is expected to accept and is considered virtually sure of re-election but the opinion is growing that if Madame Peron were going to be the second half of a husband-and-wife ticket, she would have made an announcement by now.

Deny Reports That Truman Is Planning Cabinet Shakeup

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The White House today denied reports that President Truman is planning a cabinet shake-up and a newly-announced schedule for Secretary of State Acheson apparently ruled out any likelihood of his resignation in the near future.
Published reports that Defense Secretary Marshall will resign and be succeeded by W. Stuart Symington, new chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, were emphatically denied by a spokesman for the President.
Assistant Press Secretary Roger Tubby also denied that Commerce Secretary Sawyer is to be superseded by Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston.
The White House statement, believed issued on the direct authority of Mr. Truman, said there was "no truth whatsoever" in the published news story.
The plans announced for Acheson indicate he will continue in office until at least December.
The heavy schedule outlined by State department spokesman Carroll Kilpatrick provides for a European trip by Acheson in October which will carry him to Rome and bring him back to Paris for the annual meeting of the UN General Assembly on Nov. 6. That meeting is expected to last at least two weeks.

Governor Fine Is Not Concerned Over Lawmaker's Charge

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Gov. John S. Fine indicated today that he is unconcerned over an Erie lawmaker's charge that a veto of a proposed Erie-Scranton toll road was motivated by political revenge.
"I have no comment," said Fine. "It is not deserving of comment."
The accusation came from Sen. C. Arthur Blass (R) Erie, one of 11 GOP senators blocking passage of the state income tax. Fine proposed to balance his $1,220,000,000 budget.
Fine said he vetoed the bill, sponsored by Blass, because it authorized a northern Pennsylvania turnpike joining links from the existing toll road which are not even under construction.
"The sounder and more orderly approach... would seem to be legislation passed at such time as the extensions, to which the proposed extension is to connect, are constructed or their construction is under way," said the governor.
"At that time it will be possible to more accurately gauge the need for such an extension and to pass appropriate legislation if it then seems advisable."

Loan Is Made To Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The economic cooperation administration announced today a $29,800,000 loan to Yugoslavia for purchase of critically scarce raw materials.
The credit, to be financed by MDAP money, was granted under terms of a British-French-U. S. agreement providing for a total $0 million dollars in aid to Marshall Tito this year.
The U. S. loan will be used to buy cotton, coke, steel and other materials in this country. Great Britain is expected to announce an $11,500,000 loan shortly for purchases in that country.
France has not yet indicated the amount of her initial loan. The U. S. has previously provided Yugoslavia with 150 million dollars in grants and loans.
BONFIRE CAUSES ALARM
Four fire companies were summoned to 126 Quest street, Monday afternoon at 2:20 o'clock, when a bonfire, built by an elderly woman residing at that location, got out of control. Firemen extinguished the blaze with a booster hose, no property damage resulting. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink stated.

Good Samaritan Loses Roll Of $470

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Walter J. Carter, 45, was in fine spirits.
He was on his way back to his Pittsburgh home from a vacation in Atlantic City. His pockets were lined with $470 including $230 he won at the Atlantic City race track.
So when he saw three men having what he thought was motor trouble with their car in lower Merion township last night, he felt obliged to render assistance.
Carter stopped his car, and as he did, he told police ruefully, two of the men approached him with drawn pistols and relieved him of his money.

Chops Down Trees, Learns It's Costly

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Reinhold Witt found out today it's better to ask before chopping down any trees in Pittsburgh.
The city of Pittsburgh filed suit yesterday in common pleas court to collect damages supposedly caused when Witt leveled two black walnut trees in front of his north side district home.
The suit seeks damages for loss of two trees valued at about $250 each, cost of the purchase of two new trees, loss of the trees for shade and ornamental purposes.

New York City Has Lots Of Farms

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(INS)—There aren't exactly any pasture lands on Broadway, but New York City has a lot of farms.
The State Department of Commerce reported that the city's farmers had net incomes of $1,925,000 in 1949 from the raising of truck garden produce and dairy products—right within the limits of the nation's largest city.
What's more, New York City's farmers had a higher net income than those of seven upstate counties.
If the $3,000,000 derived from sale of flowers grown in Staten Island greenhouses and elsewhere in the city were added, New York's agricultural income would top that of 23 of the 57 upstate counties.

Believes Britain's Socialist Regime Halted World War

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The secretary of Britain's Labor party believes the Socialist government saved the world from a major war last December but he is a little vague on the details.
Morgan Phillips, questioned by American correspondents after he made his statement at a news conference, would say only:
1. That Prime Minister Clement Attlee went to Washington last December at the time that the Korean war was threatening, in his view, to boil over into World War III.
2. That Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint chiefs of staff, felt that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views on conducting the Korean war might lead to a new World War.
Phillips refused to document his statement further.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Cleveland detectives are asking every citizen in northern Ohio to examine his property today for any sign of missing 10-year-old Beverly Potts, object of the most intense search in the city's history.
Deputy Inspector James E. MacArthur, who made the appeal in a radio broadcast, told listeners that "even the most trifling tip might be the one we are looking for."
The blonde, blue-eyed youngster disappeared last Friday night from the Halloran playground on the city's West Side. Neighbors, police, city employees, boy scouts and Civil Air Patrol flyers have been hunting for the youngster.

Corn On The Cob Season

WILD OAT FARM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Aug. 28.—(INS)—Do you ever wonder why no American poet has ever written an ode to corn on the cob? What more noble, more typically American subject could a native poet wish? Something like:

O, corn! Good for man or beast,
Fit for humble meal or feast,
Fine to drink, or fine to eat.
Better now than pie or meat.

Naturally, I am no T. S. Elliot, but if this gives him an idea, I shall be happy to have him run with the ball, or the cob.

To sit at table these last days of August with a platter of hot corn and a pound of country butter, front and center, is to savor life at its sweetest and pity Lucullus, who was born 2,000 years too soon.

O, happy day when the Pilgrim fathers stumbled on the Indians eating this strange vegetable of the new world. What peak in Darien is comparable to that memorable moment when the daring white man first sank molar into the creamy pearls festooned upon the cob?

Imagine Historic Scene
Imagine the historic scene that followed, with the Pilgrim fathers begging a few sample ears—perhaps from Pocahontas' pa—to take home as a treat to the wife and kiddies.

Imagine some Pilgrim father coming home, dumping a half dozen ears in his wife's lap and saying: "Get yourself a load of this, Martha, and then say that trip on the Mayflower wasn't worth it!" If America had given the old world no other gift, no further boon, than corn on the cob, the old world would still be in her debt. The heat of August is made durable by the thought that it is ripening a delicacy better than caviar or pate de foie gras and within the purse of even the poorest.

During the corn season in the U.S.A., every man eats like a king, or, as a king would like to eat, if only he could get the royal mitts on some of the American specialty. Let the upper classes have their wicked demi-tasses, leave the Vanderbilts wallow in Guinea hen under glass. I will envy no man as long as the roasting ears lie in smoking, golden heaps on the luncheon and dinner table.

There is an old wheeze that describes the unluckiest man in the world as the feller who works for his board and room and then loses his appetite and develops insomnia.

Upper Plate Is Busted
Even now a far unluckier man is out back, weeding the corn patch. It is old Bill, who helps with the garden. "If you have tears, prepare to shed them now!" His upper plate is busted.

When I passed the corn, like molten sunshine, to Bill at luncheon time, he shook his head sadly. "Dropped my upper plate last week," he mumbled. "Broke clean in two. I took it to the doc who made it and says 'hop to, hub, it's corn season and time's awastin'. Vulcanize this thing and let me go eat'."

"But he called me last night and says 'Bill, I sure am sorry to break the bad news, but this is a riveting job, and I got to send it clean to Newark to get it repaired. Man, I sure hope you like soup.'"

"Let me cut it off the cob for you, Bill," I said.
"Nope, nope," said Bill. "If'n I can't chomp, I won't munch. A man's got his pride."

The world is dark, indeed, and wide. The Russians are mean as dirt. The Chinese are a caution. Taxes are eating up the land. Politicians are ruining the country. The younger generation is a handful.

But there is a light in the east; there is still hope. The corn is ripe, the crop is big and most of us have a good upper plate.

a big boy. And so am I, am I, am I." Sammy Parsons sang to himself as he sat musing in the special chair in his room.

Anyone who's around young children knows that they love singing and often will make up their own songs if no one makes fun of them or tries to get them to sing only "real" songs.

Parents and teachers who can easily improve little songs connected with a child's everyday activities bring a lot of satisfaction to the youngster. And they also lay the foundation for his own song-making, a thing from which he gets great pleasure.

Hearing good, simple music on phonograph records is another experience that can lay a foundation for the young songmaker.

Folk songs, Negro spirituals and other such music may often give rise to improvised songs that have the same color and tone as over they're heard but are essentially the youngster's own.

FLYING TWINS
NEW YORK.—(INS)—Passengers on one American Airlines flagship sometimes feel they may be a little air sick when they look at their stewardesses and see double. The illusion is the Barker twins—Marion and Marilyn—who work together on flights to New York City, Chicago or Mexico. The pretty blue-eyed blondes are the only set of twins among some 650 stewardesses on the air line.

Garden Notes

Build up peony clumps so that they will flower next year by applying a trowelful of fertilizer around each plant and carefully working it into the soil.

To get the best of the peach tree borers, spray the trunks of the trees with DDT, 2 ounces of 50 percent wettable powder to 5 gallons of water. Spray at 2-week intervals.

Many of the vegetables growing in the home garden can be kept producing long after the first frost if protected with newspapers, burlap or straw.

Muskmelons and watermelons will not be troubled with decay and wireworms if a thin board is placed under each one.

Vegetables should not be washed before they are stored for winter. Remember, too, that potatoes should not be exposed to the light when in storage or they are likely to turn green.

Onions should be pulled and allowed to dry thoroughly before the coming of wet, cold weather. Unless the tops are dried off well, the bulbs will not keep in storage.

Dr. A. B. Foster Is Director Of Civil Defense

Local Civil Defense
Leaders Return From Indiantown Gap

Lawrence County Commissioners have authorized the establishment of a Civil Defense Office to administer the work of civil defense in the county. Judge W. Walter Braham, civil defense director, has appointed Dr. Arthur B. Foster as administrator in charge of the office.

Dr. Foster will serve as a volunteer without compensation, but funds appropriated by the county commissioners last year for civil defense purposes will provide for office, secretarial and miscellaneous expense.

Dr. Foster, together with Harvey B. Bush, president of the Lawrence county commissioners, and P. G. Dingley, deputy county defense director, attended the statewide civil defense exercise held at Indiantown Gap on Friday and Saturday. Civil defense directors and other personnel from all counties in the state attended and received an excellent insight into the job of civil defense.

Counties in the eastern half of the state have been particularly progressive in their development of defense activities and many of the practices demonstrated at Indiantown Gap were under the direction of individuals and groups from the eastern counties. Particularly impressive was the mock air attack staged on Friday evening of which a description was broadcast over a statewide radio network. The air attack was followed by a demonstration of the various phases of civil defense, with fire-fighting teams and rescue teams from near-by counties carrying out their assigned duties.

The demonstration by the Civil Air Patrol from York county on Saturday morning was also effective in showing how the Civil Air Patrol can function in evacuating wounded and bringing in emergency supplies to a bombed area where other means of transportation and communication have been destroyed.

The week-end program at Indiantown Gap was conducted by the Civil Defense Council in conjunction with the Department of Military Affairs of the Commonwealth, and about 200 civil defense workers were in attendance.

Three Day Camp Trip Is Planned

Mahoning Troop Four Plans To Camp Out

Excitement is high among the members of Mahoningtown Boy Scout troop No. 4 which is planning a camp-out in North Beaver township on August 31, September 1 and 2.

John Porter, Sr., scoutmaster, and Don Weiskaker and John Hall, leaders, will be in charge of the 20 young men who will be making the trip to the area so graciously opened up to them by owners of property in the Hickory creek area.

Previous trips to the site have prepared the area for the coming camp-out. The young men will leave on Friday at a time yet to be determined, and camp out on Friday night and Saturday night, leaving for the return trip home some time Sunday.

Included on the interesting agenda for the three-day period will be campcraft, hiking and swimming, if the weather permits. A story hour period is planned for the evening sessions, in charge of the camp leaders.

Mr. Weiskaker reminds the young men that they should bring along the following articles if their trip is to be a success: two or three blankets, ground mat, hunting knife or axe, extra underclothing and socks, heavy shirt and jacket, swimming trunks, towel, wash cloth and soap and an extra pair of shoes.

The boys will be divided into groups of two, with a pup tent being assigned to each group. The young men will use the buddy system throughout the period. A fee has been set and will be used in the purchase of food for the camping period.

The experience will be one long to be remembered in the lives of the young men and will enable them in future days to get along in case they are away from home and friends and need to put their experience in practice.

Witness Explosions

At Denver, Col.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCann, Sr., 913 West Clayton street, had the experience of being at the foot of the mountain where the lightning fired explosions occurred in Colorado late last week.

Mr. and Mrs. McCann, who have just returned from a short visit with their son, Charles McCann, at Colorado Springs, reported that they could hear clearly the explosions, in which several men met their death.

The McCanns had as their guest on the trip little Barbara Bahrer of West Pittsburg road, their granddaughter. En route to Denver they took back with them their grandchildren, Bernard, Virginia and Gertrude, children of the Charles McCanns, who have been visiting the local family since March.

The family reported witnessing many lovely sights during their trip to the West.

Little Activity On Mahoning Playground

Seventh Ward's once busy playground, to the rear of the Mahoning school, which is closed for the season, presents a picture of inactivity these days compared to the hustle and bustle of the boys and girls who spent many cheerful, happy hours there over the past summer months.

All equipment of the city recreation department has been removed to the storage building and will not be replaced again now for another nine months until the close of school in 1952.

Next week with the opening of school, boys and girls during recess periods will make use of the grounds for ring games and ball games, under the supervision of their teachers.

Forty-Niners Meet At Blanton Home

The Forty-Niners club met at the home of Mrs. Linda Blanton, 515 Newell avenue, when tables of 500 were in play during the evening.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Perna Gettings, Mrs. Ellen Cheek, and Mrs. Ida Hall. The door prize went to Mrs. Emma June Calhoun. The birthdays of Miss Perna Gettings and Mrs. Larue Blangiro were honored, each receiving several lovely gifts. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ida Hall, 24 North Cedar street, on September 29.

United Labor Policy Committee May Be Dissolved, Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Labor's great defense teamwork organization, the United Labor Policy committee, may be dissolved today as a result of a widening rift between the AFL and CIO.

The committee has been called into a closed-door session to consider an AFL proposal to withdraw from the group which only a short time ago was hailed by union leaders as a sign that national labor unity was in sight.

Word was passed along in labor quarters that the meeting may be the last. The group was formed last year to furnish a united front for labor on defense questions.

The AFL and CIO have worked together in the committee on all questions relating to defense production, controls, and similar matters. If there have been any differences, they have not been outwardly manifest.

John L. Lewis refused to bring his United Mine Workers into the committee. However, major labor groups affiliated with the two big union organizations have been represented.

Portersville Fire Group Corn Roast

Portersville and Muddy Creek Township Volunteer fire department conducted a most successful corn roast event on the Portersville high school grounds. William Brown, president, reported that an exceptionally fine time was enjoyed by the residents with ideal weather experienced for the gathering.

The newly purchased fire truck was on hand and met with fine approval by the residents as they inspected it. Fred Hall, fire chief, reported substantial contributions and he wishes to thank everyone who contributed or had a part in its purchase.

The ladies of the community cooperated exceptionally well in their serving, helping to make the event the success it was. Proceeds of the event will be used to supply equipment for the fire truck.

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. ## 3 Easy Steps...into your new 1951 Packard

1 Check the little extra cash difference

Just compare the slight difference in your 18 monthly payments (after 1/3 down) between a "low-priced" car and a Packard:

If you've been planning to pay ... the extra monthly payments for a Packard can be as low as ...

New York Stocks

Market Today Is Irregular

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(U.S.)—The stock market fluctuated irregularly today. Virtually the entire list held within fractional price limits.

Wall Street viewed the performance of the market as generally favorable, in view of the continued adverse news pattern highlighted by the stalemate in Korean cease-fire talks and the walk-out of copper mine workers. There was also some disappointment at the failure of the senate finance committee to give big business a better break in the vote on corporate tax provisions than the house had done, although some improvement was noted.

Volume for the first hour totaled 240,000 shares as against 250,000 yesterday.

Curb stocks were mixed. Big board bonds moved selectively higher.

Commodities held steady except for cotton which dipped 85 cents a bale.

Court House

More To Be Up
For SentenceCourt Adjourns In Memory Of McElwee

Another session of sentence court is planned for Wednesday morning, when additional prisoners who have entered pleas will be before the court.

Donald J. Trimble, charged with operating a motor vehicle during a period of suspension, on a speeding charge, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs, Monday morning.

Court adjourned following the close of business Monday morning, out of respect to the memory of the late county solicitor, William McElwee, Jr., whose funeral took place in New Wilmington, Monday afternoon.

Formal mention of Mr. McElwee's death was made by Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker, for the record of the court, and Judge W. Walter Braham directed that court adjourn until Wednesday because of Mr. McElwee's death, and that the minutes of the court so indicate.

ADJOURN HEARING

Adjournment of the hearing being held in the case of Charles D. Broughter, who seeks release from the Western penitentiary, where he has been serving a sentence of from 2½ to 3 years on a morals charge, was taken at noon Monday, after hearing a part of the testimony in the case.

The hearing on a writ of habeas corpus directed against the warden of the Western penitentiary is being heard before Judge W. Walter Braham. Broughter charges that he was not given the benefit of counsel when his case came before the court, after he is said to have entered a plea of guilty to the charges against him in June, 1949. He still has a few more months to serve. The hearing will be resumed Wednesday.

Reduce Number Of Widths Of Shoes
For Men In Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The Army has decided there isn't enough difference in soldiers' feet to require issuing shoes in ten different widths.

The Quartermaster Corps announced today that from now on Army and Air Force shoes will come in any five widths—regular, narrow, wide, extra narrow and extra wide.

The action will simplify supply and storage problems and cut the present 230 shoe sizes carried by the Quartermaster Corps almost in half.

HUNDREDS of city employees are joining Cleveland police in search for Beverly Potts, 10, missing since Aug. 24 when she was last seen in a park near her home. Witnesses say they saw her standing near a 1937 automobile, apparently talking with two young men in it. (International)

BUGGY ROMANCE

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., — (INS) — Horses and buggies are rolling again down "Lovers' Lane, St. Jo." immortalized in poetry by Eugene Field. A nostalgic newspaper article inspired three young St. Joseph men to locate three buggies and eight horses, paint the buggies a glossy red and black, and start a rental service.

PLENTY OF TURKEYS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Plenty of turkeys and cranberry sauce for Thanksgiving. The Agriculture Department predicts a record high crop of 32,774,000 turkeys this year. It said the cranberry crop is estimated at 26 per cent above the 10-year average.

"PROVED" DAIRY SIRES PROVING THEIR WORTH

The "proving" of dairy herd sires continues to increase. In the first half of 1951, the U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry received more than 271,000 records that can be used in proving bulls this year, an increase of 30,000 records over the first half of 1950.

Sire proving grew out of the practical demonstration of the value of the method as applied in the dairy herd the bureau maintains at Beltsville Research Center. Starting in 1919, the bureau used proved sires for several generations, and by 1935 concluded that this test showed that continuing use of proved sires is one of the surest and quickest ways to build up a high-producing herd. In 1935 a nation-wide proving program was started in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association herds. The starting and rapid development of dairy artificial breeding development is a practical way of making full use of the best of the sires that are "proved" by the performance of their daughters as compared with the production of the dams.

Of the 2,102 sires in service in artificial breeding cooperatives in 1951, more than a third, or 766, had five or more daughters whose rated production was recorded.

These daughters averaged 443 pounds of butterfat. In 1950 the yearly average of all cows in the herd improvement associations was 359 pounds. The average for all cows milked in the United States was 211 pounds. It is not exceptional for the artificial breeding technique to enable one of the highly favored sires in an ABC to sire as many as 10,000 daughters in his lifetime. One effective method used by several ABC is for the cooperative to buy several young sires of promising breeds, to use each of these one season with cows enough to "prove" the quality of the sire, and then farm out the young bulls for two or three seasons until the "proving" records have come in. From the group only the animals that make outstanding records in improving production of daughters will be returned to the breeding service of the ABC.

GARDENERS ARE URGED TO MAKE COMPOST PILE

Compost piles, which can be built largely of waste materials, provide a good source of humus for the garden. Humus helps the soil hold more moisture and make it easier to work.

Suitable materials for the compost pile include grass clippings, leaves, weeds, discarded plant remains from the garden if they are not diseased, sod, soil, sawdust and animal manures.

Locate the compost pile where it is screened by a building, or some plant growth. As the materials become available put them in layers on the ground, keeping the top of the pile lower in the middle than the sides to catch and hold rainwater.

From time to time apply a layer of animal manure and for each 6-inch thickness of compost spread one pint of garden fertilizer for each 50 square feet of compost. A handful of lime can be scattered over each layer to good effect. To add nitrogen, put on nitrate or soda or sulphate of ammonia.

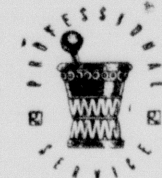

Composts can be started at any time of the year, but the process of decay slows up in cold weather. In dry spells add water to the pile.

Mix the materials in the heap occasionally, and allow it to rot thoroughly before applying it to the garden.

If a man had proportionately the same strength in his jaws as an ant, he could lift about 275 pounds with his teeth.

Dry, delicate,
and aromatic herbs

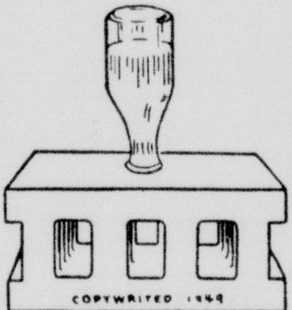

The selection and preservation of drugs are among the chief responsibilities of the pharmacist. For proper storage of pharmaceuticals in the sixteenth century, it was specified that moist drugs must be kept in silver, glass, or horn jugs and that eye unguents must be preserved in china, whereas marrow, lard, and crude matter of like character could be kept in zinc boxes. Twentieth-century medicines, many of which are extremely delicate in composition, require scientific processing and painstaking care for proper preservation and storage. Development of suitable methods for packaging and preserving drugs is one of pharmacy's many contributions to modern science, through which world-wide distribution of important pharmaceutical and biological products has been made possible.

New Castle Indians Split Twin-Bill With Lockport To End Season

Walt Kowalski Hits Three Homers, Raises Total to 26; Tribe Loses 5-3, Win 5-4

The New Castle Indians said farewell to Flaherty Field last night on a happy note, winning the final game of a twin-bill from Lockport 5-4, after losing the first game 5-3.

The final two games were especially happy ones for "Old Reliable" Walt Kowalski who batted three homers to raise his total for the season to 26. Rudy York had only one hit, a double in five trips, and couldn't get one over the fence. York ended the season with an unofficial total of 36 homers, two short of tying the league all-time record of 38 set in 1938 by Frank Welch.

Iron Man Stunt Failure

Big Pat McCullough, star right-hander of the Lockport Locks, and only hurler to pitch a no-hitter in the Middle-Atlantic loop this year, essayed an iron-man role last night, after winning the first game 5-3 on a six-hit job, he asked for a chance to try for two, and for five innings of the second game had a three-hit shutout, but the Indians climbed on the tiring Pat in the sixth for five big runs on four hits, a homer by Kowalski with Harig aboard, doubles by Sakanich and Toles, and a triple by Frisina and a walk to pinch-hitter Bill Green.

Ken Geer who had been bested by McCullough in the first game was the winner of the night-cap after relieving Herb Churchill in the first inning after Churchill was felled by a hard hit liner off the bat of Billy Paolesio. Churchill was hit in the chest by the ball, but threw the runner out. Rossman hurled the last inning when Geer was lifted for a pinch-hitter. Rossman also pitched the last inning of the first game.

Brooklyn Dodgers Lead Cut To Five By Hot Giants

Durochermen Win Two More

Dodgers Split; Braves Win Pair

By HOWARD SIGMUND (N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The "magic number" for Duroch's Dandies today is five. When the unbuttoned Lip asks for five for his boys, he isn't looking for a hep cat handshake. That's the figure his fantastic New York Giants need to catch the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The peeved Brooks saw the Giants take another pair from the Cubs yesterday while they could manage only a split with the last place Pirates—again. And now the Dodger lead, which once stood at an insurmountable 13½ games a fortnight ago, is down to a "magic" five.

The Giants scored a stirring 5 to 4 win in 12 innings to get Larry Jansen his 17th of the year and then rookie Al Corvin won his fifth in a row as he bested the Bruins, 6 to 3.

Contact Work Features Ne-Ca-Hi Football Drills

New Castle high school football candidates are facing rugged contact work this week at their training camp at Camp Fred L. Rentz.

First scrimmage sessions were held late last week and except for the week end, when the boys returned to their homes, there has been no let-up.

Strenuous morning and afternoon sessions are gradually getting the squad members into condition, and each day the material on hand looks a little better.

The make-up of the first team is still very much in doubt, with a number of boys very strong contestants at each position.

Only casualties of any consequence to date are Mitchell Charles and Wilbur Focht. Charles had a collision with Joe Frenzel early in the training session and needed quite a number of stitches in his forehead.

Senior Golfers Await Tomorrow

Big Day Planned At Castle Hills

With over 100 tickets already sold and many probably waiting to see what kind of weather Wednesday brings, the Senior golfers of New Castle are eagerly awaiting the "big event" at Castle Hills course.

Lou Lautenslager, president of the New Castle Senior Golf Association was very enthusiastic this morning as he talked about the big annual one-day event for all golfers 50 years of age and over at Castle Hills tomorrow.

"We will start teeing-off around noon and will have well over 100 men on the course by 2 o'clock at least," Lou said. The men leave the tee in foursomes.

Many enjoyable hours will be spent as the oldsters tour the lovely fairways and slick greens of the picturesque Castle Hills layout.

Larry Gramling and Jimmy Ludwig have promised full cooperation with the Seniors tomorrow at Castle Hills and will do everything in their power to make the day for the men a happy one. There are prizes galore for the various events planned. The committee has gone "all out" this year to make the 1951 tourney the most enjoyable ever.

The men will gather in the basement of the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening for their annual "fun" banquet.

Ellwood CIO Issues Softball Challenge

Ellwood City CIO has challenged Ross-Morelli to a five-game series for the county championship.

Manager Gabby DeCaprio of Ross-Morelli and the Ellwood representatives today agreed to play a five-game city-county championship series, with all games to be played at Gaston Park, beginning at 5:45 p. m.

The Ellwood team has won 39 and lost but three, and two pitchers, Brandes (21-2), and Shadone (18-1) have accounted for all the wins. Three players are currently batting .350 and over.

The series will open Wednesday night and be continued Friday. All games are to go at least nine innings.

DeCaprio has put his team back in harness and will put them through drills at Gaston Park tonight at 5:30. Tuscano, Spanish and McFarland will stand ready for Wednesday. Tuscano will undoubtedly open on the mound.

Ross-Morelli has won 37 and dropped 10 this year.

A new turf has been planted at Beaver Field for the forthcoming football season. Groundkeepers say the field will be in perfect condition for Penn State's opening test against Boston University September 29.

DeMarco Wins Over Saddler

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 28.—(INS)—Paddy DeMarco, Brooklyn featherweight, scored an upset decision over champion Sandy Saddler last night in a 10-round non-title event at Milwaukee's Arena.

The split decision gave Saddler his second defeat in 12 starts since he gained the 126-pound title from Willie Pep last year.

DeMarco, weighing 136, had an eight-pound advantage over the champion. He easily took command in the first three rounds and came back in the latter stages of the rough-house battle after Saddler scored with lefts to the body and right uppercuts in the fourth, fifth and sixth.

Alumni and non-alumni are evenly divided on the Penn State football coaching staff. Non-alumni are head coach Rip Engle, Earl Bruce, Frank Patrick and Joe Paterno. The old grads on the staff are Joe Bedenk, Al Michaels, Jim O'Hara and Sever Toretti.

Penn State traditionally plays four games at home during each football season. In 1952, five of the Lion's ten games will be played at Beaver Field, marking the first time since 1931 that Penn State played five games on the home gridiron.

Marciano Kayos Beshore In 4th

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—There was a little more proof today that Rocky Marciano of Brockton is one of the top heavyweight boxers.

Rocky knocked off once-durable Freddie Beshore in 50 seconds of the fourth round of their scheduled ten-rounder in Boston Garden last night. And when the rugged Beshore was knocked from his feet it marked the first time in his 10-year professional career that he had been decked.

Rocky made him hit the canvas emphatically. A sustained series of rights and lefts sent Freddie backwards and he was stretched out unconscious when the count of 10 was reached.

This was Marciano's 37th victory in an undefeated professional career and it was his 32nd knock-out.

Farmer Issues Defi; Two Midgets Coming

Farmer Marlin, who with Polo Cordova, defeated Jules La Rence and Francois Miquet in a mat tag match Friday night at Flaherty field, has issued a challenge to Ruffy Silverstein.

The farmer wants to wrestle Silverstein here for a side bet or winner take all. He would like the match to be staged September 18, when among the wrestlers will be a pair of midgets, according to Tommy Leach, matchmaker of the Jefferson A. C.

It is not known if Silverstein will accept the farmers' defi.

Farmer Marlin made a hit here in his first bout. Silverstein won from Miquet.

Under weak moonlight, the human eye can distinguish a black automobile almost as easily as it can pick out a white one. Reason is that in such lighting, when there is only 1/1000th of a foot-candle of light, the human eye loses its color discrimination, and sees only silhouettes.

Gavilan Heavy Favorite To Win

Meets Graham In Bout Wednesday

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—The International Boxing club, doing a land office business in championship bouts, offers Kid Gavilan against Billy Graham tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden with the Keed a 2 to 1 favorite to retain his welterweight crown.

The 15-round—which should go the limit between two flashy but non-lethal punchers—is the second of four title bouts scheduled for New York within a six weeks period.

The cycle began with Joey Maxim's successful 175-pound defense last week and embraces also the Randy Turpin-Ray Robinson and Sandy Saddler-Willie Pep rematches next month for the mid-weight and featherweight championships.

Champ Heavy Favorite

Of all the titleholders, Gavilan appears likely to enter the ring as the heaviest favorite, although he and Graham broke even in two split decisions last year.

The fact that Graham has had only one bout in 1951 has caused the fight mob to steer away from him on the likely theory that he may be rusty. Moreover, the 28-year-old Graham is a stranger to the 15-round distance.

Both previous Graham-Gavilan bouts were ten-rounders. But they were humdrumers. The aggregate cards of ring officials for the two fights gave Gavilan 28 rounds and Graham 27 with five scored even. Gavilan had a 37-34 point edge.

First dog show in the United States was held in New York in 1877.

Letter To The News And To Our County Commissioners

They're tearing down the old covered bridge, Maggie. The other day, Maggie, I returned to the scene of our courting days, back to the beautiful old mill stream—the Slippery Rock creek.

The wheel was still, they told you before, but now something disgraceful is wrong—they're tearing down the old covered bridge. No, not the county but vandalism.

Careless non-thinking robots are tearing away the siding for firewood and making holes in the roof. You know when the house is destroyed the weather soon gets to the structural members of these old covered bridges and all the timbers are like you and I, Maggie. I shall not be guilty of silence while this is going on though some one surely is guilty of neglect to protect the county property.

If vandals were to break a window in the courthouse, which could easily be replaced, they no doubt would soon be brought to justice, while these old covered bridges are almost irreplaceable or even repairable. Like the repairs made to the ancient Greek temples by later generations they looked very amateurish.

The one at McConnell's Mill and the badly damaged ones at Eckerts and Breakneck are as wonderful specimens as can be found anywhere in the nation. They are also placed in one of the most scenic spots of America, the lower Slippery Rock valley.

There must be others like us, Maggie, who love the great open church—whose heart strings pull them back and back again, whose soul needs refreshed from this almost virgin wilderness. What sermons we have taken from the waters that turned the wheel, from the tall heron, sentinels that remember the red-skinned fishermen, from the mother with babes in the wood, from Hiawatha's ruffed grouse chickens, from this great class-room of the geologist and students of the earth sciences.

There are others like you and I, Maggie, who are working hard to make this all a public park for lovers like you and I to see preserved for all time against vandals and commercialism that would be ruinous. We sentimentalists would see those old things restored while future generations could see what it was we had to sing about.

They could see those temples of wood so masterfully built by men of faith who so successfully used the materials they had on hand to build a bridge that would last many generations if properly maintained. They could see again the old water-turned mills, that ground the grain for the staff of life for our forefathers, restored—the mills that squeezed the oil from the flaxseed, that worked the flax fibers of the homespun, that pressed the cider from autumn's golden crop, and sawed boards from logs, the like in size we will never see again. Others will see the Mills of the Gods, the Pebble Mills, slowly, slowly, ever so slowly but exceedingly fine they grind and grind.

There are individuals who have pledged to endow this park, to guarantee its maintenance without tax money. What more can we ask? Besides the recreational benefits, the park would be an industry in that it would provide profitable work for many who love this kind of labor. It would draw an ever increasing flow of tourists to this district who must purchase gasoline, food, shelter and many incidentals.

The people of New Castle should wholeheartedly support the effort to create a park of this area, as many of the residents and landowners have sold at a low figure, retaining a life lease on the acreage within the proposed park. But others are not of the same school as McConnell's Mill's old philosopher—Mose. Mose says the good Lord just made him guardian over this territory for a short space of time and during this time he likes to see people enjoy the scenery so long as they don't destroy anything. Most folks are well behaved and have returned here for picnics for over 50 years. A few need instructions in outdoor etiquette which Mose administers so wisely. Mose thinks that is why the good Lord extended his time as overseer.

And so do you and I, Maggie.

Plenty of Turkeys For Holidays Is State Forecast

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—(INS)—A plentiful supply of turkeys for Thanksgiving and Christmas was assured today by the state agriculture department.

Pennsylvania turkey growers will come up with a record high 1,607,000 birds this year, the department said, and will meet an increasing demand for "broiler turkeys".

Many broiler turkeys—young Beltsville white broad-breasted birds—are as small as two pounds with others running to four to eight pounds at 14 to 17 weeks of age.

Chicago Girls Are Alerted For Wolf Call From Bird

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Pretty Chicago girls were asked today to be on the alert for wolf calls.

The request came from Chester Johnson who said his Chartreuse parakeet disappeared when he absent minded walked out of his house with the bird perched on his shoulder.

Johnson said the bird, Wacky, has only one means of communication—long, low wolf calls.

Hope That Muddled Steel Situation Will Be Cleared Up Soon

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Magazine Steel reported that hopes are rising that the muddled steel distribution situation under the controlled materials plan will be cleared up by the end of the year.

The national metalworking trade publication said that government authorities report that the over-tightening on CMP account for the fourth quarter is not as excessive as first believed.

Steel added: "The going for both producers and consumers of steel promises to be rough in the fourth quarter as adjustments are necessitated in scheduling in the direction of more realistic distribution."

The magazine reported that mills now are overloaded with rated tonnage "and this can only mean there will have to be some cancellation of tonnage or deferment of shipments."

Important building and construction projects face delays over coming months as a result of new restrictions and reduction in structural steel allotments.

Steel said the $400 million plant of the United States Steel Co. at Morrisville, Pa., may be one of the projects slowed down as a result.

The national ingot rate declined ed four points last week to 98 per cent of capacity. Steel continued, primarily because of railroad labor trouble in the Buffalo district.

FASHION DIVORCE

CHICAGO.—(INS)—A Chicago Irishman and his French bride called it quits over price tags on Paris gowns. Edward O'Donnell, 32, said his pocketbook couldn't stand the cost of Paris creations 24-year-old Georgette was used to wearing. They quarrelled and she told Judge Joseph Sabath that O'Donnell beat her. The judge granted her a divorce on cruelty.

The typewriter was invented in England in the 18th century.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(INS)—A lady, entertaining at dinner, can now match her fashionable dishes to her fashionable didoes.

A New York costume jewelry firm today announced the addition of "Wedgewood gems" to the fall collection.

The Wedgewood jewelry—patterned after the delicate blue-tinted cameo look of Britain's famed Wedgewood china—will appear in the form of pins, bracelets, necklaces and earrings.

The jeweled Wedgewood (made in England, like the china) will be mounted on 14-karat gold settings, and each piece will be marked with the Wedgewood stamp.

Many of the jewelry items will be outlined in pearls, the only gems which blend with the cameo-like simplicity of Wedgewood.
